

Alsina 1639 3°Q

This image shows a bright, empty interior space, likely a kitchen and living area. The floor is covered in large, light-colored square tiles. The walls are white and feature several electrical outlets and switches. A large window with a metal railing is positioned at the end of the room, offering a view of greenery outside. In the foreground, a kitchen counter with a dark, speckled granite top is visible, equipped with a stainless steel sink and a modern faucet. A gas stove is partially visible in the bottom right corner. The overall atmosphere is clean and modern.
